MARKET REACTS

AFTER LATE RISE

Advance on Wednesday Was Planned by Professionals for "Quick Turn."

MONEY WAS QUIET AND EASY

Shorts Covered Late in the Day, But Closing Tone Was Weak.

NEW YORK, February 14 .- Yesterday's promise of rising prices for stocks was not held to-day, and the failure of the effort to lift prices was followed by a reaction. little to do, apparently, with the action of the market. The decisive influence was the perception that the improved demand incited by yesterday's encouraging action of the market was being taken advantage of to ket was being taken advantage of to realize on the part of the purchasers of yosterday. The professional traders accepted this as an indication that yesterday. The professional traders accepted this as an indication that yesterday's operations were designed for a short turn on the market. When they perceived the realizing they offered prices down, with the ready available movement of prices. The carly buying which helped to absorb the realizing was helped out by the demand for London account. The prosaic termination of to-uay's meetings by contrast was followed by considerable selling of stocks all through the list. Wall Street has made much market-wise for many days now of a supposition that the attitude of the Washington administration towards combinations of capital was to undergo a revision. Visits to the White House of capitalists active and conspicuous in the financial world have given rise to these confectures of a treaty. Money worked easier at first both for cail and time loans, and no effect was apparent from the preparation for the return to-morrow of $6,000,000 of government deposits, which has been set for that date, until near the end of the day, when the rate touched 6 per cent. The conviction was held in some quarters that the withdrawal of this money would be postponed, but no official announcement from Washington appeared as the basis for this assumption. realize on the part of the purchasers of crop positions and 252 points higher on the new. Sales for the day were estimated at 150,000 bales.

COTTON MARKET.

NEW YORK, February 14.—The cotton market was irregular during to-day's session and at times showed weakness under near months. The close was very steady, however, with prices only 1 point lower on old crop positions and 293 points higher on the new. Sales for the day were estimated at 150,000 bulse.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 2 points, owing to rather steadler cables than expected, but the market weakened almost immediately under a renewal of the selling noted on the previous day. After working about 6 points net lower on the old crop months prices were railled to practically the closing figures of the previous day by covering and a little fresh buying, promoted by smaller receipts at the ports than expected and the lighter estimate for to-morrow's receipts at thousand the content of the ports of again during the middle session under March ilguidation and selling by room bears in the absence of support. At the low point March soid at 9.18 or 8 points not lower and 18 points under the May ontoin, while the new crop was almost neglected and relatively stondied. Some of the local spot people were buyers toward the close, railying March from the low point to 9.28, or within 1 point of yesterday. Exports for the day were about 16,000 bales in excess of ports receipts, and

ON THE LOCAL MARKETS

COUNTRY PRODUCE

IN BETTER RECEIPT
The receipts of country produce in general were larger on Cary Street yesterday than on any other day this week, and business was directly more active. Poultry, which has been scarce for several days past was in much larger supply, and as a result prices weakened somewhat, as noted in the regular market quotations. Eggs remain firm and most of the receipts are being taken up by shippers, who seem to be anxious to lay in stock at present prices.

The baimy spring weather, which came with the clouds of yesterday, put the retail dealers in the hump to lay in supplies of Florida vegetables, and the cabbage, beets, lettuce and atrawberries that came to market in limited quantities from the everglades were rapidly taken at figures that will encourage IN BETTER RECEIPT further shipments. Sandard articles such as pointoes, beans, pear, rork, etc. remain unchanged.

he felt at the loyalty and faith of the Americans in the present troublous times.

Americans in the present troublous times.

In the course of his remarks, the Bishop said:

"We came from the new world to solemnly protest against the persecution which the church is unjustly suffering in France, which bearts of being the beloved eldest daughter of the church. In America there are over 10,000,000 hearts which sympathize with the Holy Father. All the Holy See approves we approve; all it condemns we condemn. It is false to say that the church and state separation law puts the French church in the same condition as the American church. We enjoy perfect liberty of possession, using our property according to church law, our rights being protected by the civil laws."

The Right Rev. John Shanley, Bishop of Fargo, who accompanied the American pilgrimnae, also was received in private audience by the Pope.

COL. EDGAR ON JACKSON. What Press Says of His Brilliant

Lecture.

The following endorsements of Colonel Edgar's lecture on "Stonewall Jackson," to be delivered at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night, are not less strong than those The Times-Dispatch has already clipped from exchanges. Says the Hinton (W. Va.) Leader:
"Those who fatled to hear the splendid address of Colonel Edgar at the Courthouse last Tuesday night missed a rare treat.
"From a literary standpoint, it was eloquent, dramatic ond inspiring; the historical setting was accurate, faithful and impartial, and as a delineation of the superb character of Stonewall of the superb character of Stonewall Jackson, it was masterly and complete.

"Commencing with his career as a professor at the Virginia Military Institute, and going with the great Confederate chieftain through the famous campaigns of Manassas, the Valley, and Northern Virginia, to the sad but glorious termination at Chancellorsville, Colonel Edgar's address was a vivid and stirring reproduction of those momentous scenes.

"Coming from a man who was himself an active participant in those great struggles and personally acquainted with the chief actor therein, the burning words of the lecture made a deep impression on those who heard them, especially upon the gray-haired veterans present, There was no adverse criticism of any Federal commander or Union soldier, and the address was entirely from from interness and malice on the part of the brave soldier who deliveral 't.'
